Background:

Moonshot CVE is a startup which specialises in countering violent extremism. We use data-proven techniques to ensure our clients respond to violent extremism effectively. Our work ranges from software development and digital capacity building, to leading global counter-messaging campaigns.

Job Description

Moonshot CVE is looking for an Advisor (Consultant) to advise on gender-based violence (GBV) for our programming in Asia Pacific. The role will involve high-level advising on design of programming, input into project delivery, and briefing project teams on GBV in the region.

The Role:

- Advise the team on the delivery of GBV-relevant areas of projects.
- Advising on research and data analysis relevant to GBV and its intersections with violent extremism in Asia Pacific.

Requirements:

- Demonstrable expertise on GBV, particularly across Asia Pacific.
- An interest in the field of countering violent extremism and different methods for countering it.
- A creative mindset.
- Must be willing to sign a non-disclosure agreement and adhere to company policies on confidentiality and security.

Application Process:

Applications due by 8th December, 2017. To apply for this role please email a CV (max. one page) and information about your consultancy rates to recruitment@moonshotcve.com with the job name as the subject line.
