

Job Title: French speakers with knowledge and understanding of violent extremism in Canada

Job Type: Short-term consultancy contract (minimum 10 days)

Location: London, UK or Ottawa, Canada

Start Date: ASAP

Background:

Moonshot CVE is a startup which specialises in countering violent extremism. We use data-proven techniques to ensure our clients respond to violent extremism effectively (<http://moonshotcve.com>). Our work ranges from software development and digital capacity-building to leading global counter-messaging campaigns.

The position:

We are looking for an analyst who is fluent in French, ideally with an understanding of Quebecois French, to conduct open-source research and contribute to our corporate knowledge on violent extremism in Canada. The role will include the following responsibilities:

- Open-source research on social media, forums, video hosting sites and other online sites related to violent extremist activity in Canada;
- Identification and collation of violent extremist terms and concepts in French.

The consultant can work remotely or at Moonshot CVE's offices in London. This is a short term consultancy for a minimum of ten days, with the possibility of an extension dependent on project needs.

Minimum requirements:

- Experience conducting online research
- Knowledge of violent extremist movements, preferably in Canada
- Fluency in French (written and spoken), preferably Quebecois French
- Great organizational skills and ability to work with tight deadlines

Applications:

To apply for this role please email recruitment@moonshotcve.com with the following information:

- Curriculum vitae
- A short summary of relevant experience related to the minimum requirements
- Your availability (days per week you can commit, and when can you start)
- Rates / Daily fee

Early applications are encouraged, as we are looking to fill this position as soon as possible.
